“In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. . . What has come into being in Him was life, and the life was the light of all people. The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness did not overcome it. . . And the Word became flesh and lived among us.” (John 1:1, 4-5, 14)

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

For the first couple of winters after we had moved to Lockport, Sonya and I had to answer the same question over and over again, “Why would you ever want to move from the warmth of California to an Illinois winter?” I would always answer the same way, “I really don’t mind the snow and the cold as much as I mind the dark.” (You will have to ask Sonya how she would respond.) I do NOT like it when the sun sets at 4:20 p.m. It has taken a couple of years, but I have come to appreciate the need to put up Christmas lights outside our home. Christmas lights are a way to declare to the encroaching darkness of winter, “I am going to push back against you. You can come this far and no further.”

Light is an important part of the season of Advent (the four weeks of preparation before the coming of Christmas). As we inch closer to the longest nights of the year, we light candles in anticipation of the coming of the true “Light of the World,” Jesus Christ. Advent is a season of the Church that serves the same purpose as the Christmas lights we put up outside of our homes. In the season of Advent, God whispers to the darkness of our spiritual natures affected by sin and hopelessness and says, “You can come this far and no further.” Together with God, we light the candles of Advent to push back against sin, hopelessness, and darkness.

Some ask, “Why don’t we just skip Advent and go directly to Christmas?” Here is where I return to the answer I give to those who ask me about Illinois winters. While I am not a fan of the dark of winter, I am a HUGE fan of the light and color of spring. Give me spring and Easter over winter and Christmas any day of the week. However, without the dark of winter, I would not appreciate the return of the light. Without the bleak white and brown of this season, I would take for granted the colors of the next season. Without the knowledge of my sin, I would not appreciate the nature of God’s forgiveness and grace. Ask any cancer survivor about their life journey and – more often than not – you will hear of a greater appreciation of life, love, and family now than from before. This doesn’t mean that the time of darkness and struggle is easy. On the contrary – it is very hard. But God gives us hope – that hope is called Advent.

Join us as we celebrate HOPE! Join us as we – together with God – push back against the darkness.

The preschoolers at SOTH have been very busy preparing for the holidays. During the month of November, the students made Native American headbands, necklaces and placemats to prepare for our annual Thanksgiving feast. On feast day, the children shared a meal of chicken nuggets, carrots, cubed cheese, pudding, grapes, apple sauce and corn bread and butter which were made during class time.

This month, the students in both the three and four year old programs are preparing for the annual Christmas program which will be presented on Sunday, December 16th at 4:00 p.m. Doors will open at 3:30 p.m. The students have been practicing special Christmas songs to sing for all the families and a performance by The PALM squad (the SOTH puppet group) will be enjoyed by all. It's time for Pajama Day. The four year old students will be having a cozy Christmas this year. The students will wear their pajamas to school and get cozy as they listen to stories, decorate cookies and sing Christmas songs. The three year old program students will play games, work on craft project and enjoy a special snack during their Christmas party.

A note of thanks:

A most sincere thank you to Shepherd of the Hill congregants for the monetary gift given to me on appreciation Sunday. It has been and continues to be my privilege to serve this congregation as minster of music.

Ellen Schroll

As many of you know as I continue to work toward the completion of my Master of Divinity degree, I have had to take a unit of Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE). During my unit of CPE, I have served as a chaplain at Advocate Good Samaritan Hospital in Downers Grove and participate in a learning group of fellow seminarians who are also serving as chaplains at the hospital.

As December is upon us, I am in the closing month of my CPE unit. These past three months have proven extremely formational for me. There is something about the experience of meeting with and visiting patients and families many of whom are having one of the worst days of their life.

What I particularly enjoy about the opportunity I have to make visits is how everybody has a story. Everybody has a story about how or why they are in the hospital, but more importantly everyone has a story that is their life. Sometimes I get the privilege of a patient deciding to tell me a snapshot of their story. Some stories, I’m told are blissful reminiscence. One patient recounted to as we watched the sunset out her husband’s hospital window a vacation her and her husband took together when they were young. Her mother watched their kids and they drove down to Key West, Florida and sat at the end of a road and watched the sunset. A sunset so beautiful that she recalled everyone applauding when it was over. Some stories have a much more somber tone to them. A middle age patient I saw recently recounted the loss of her adult son.

These stories that I encounter tend to be surrounding grief. People in the hospital may be grieving from several things, the loss of a loved one or their own mortality, the loss of independence, or the grief around the disruption to what they had considered “normal”. What I have learned is that there are many ways people experience and express grief.

I am grateful for the experience of CPE and what it has done to prepare me to continue in my ministry.

Youth Ministry Coordinator

A prayer for new beginnings

In his book Awed to Heaven, Rooted in Earth (Fortress Press), Walter Brueggemann writes in an Epiphany poem:

... this is a time to be born.
So we turn to you, God of our life
God of all our years,
God of our beginning....
We dare pray that you will do for us
and among us and through us
what is needful for our newness.
Give us the power to be receptive,
to take the newness you give ....
There is a time to be born, and it is now.
We sense the pangs and groans of your newness.
Come here now in the name of Jesus. Amen.

How fitting that the Epiphany season and the new year coincide! Epiphany reveals a new King, the beginning of his ministry, his new disciples, his first healings, his "new teaching – with authority" (Mark 1:27). We, too, experience newness, now and year-round. But newness can be tough. So we trust that God, who "[makes] all things new" while banishing "mourning and crying and
